

Panhellenic Council at the University of Wisconsin-Whitewater

About - As the public relations chair for the Panhellenic Council, I decided my first duty was to create a Facebook page for the Council. I created it from scratch, added all of the necessary information and pictures, and created a social media strategy from there. I posted an update, shout-out, picture or reminder every weekday while I held the position. I created images on PicMonkey or Photoshop.

I also created a new UW-Whitewater Panhellenic Council blog on Blogger, and created a strategy for that as well. I interviewed one member of the Council every week, posted the interview on the blog, and then shared it on our Facebook and Pinterest page. I was also the unofficial photographer for the Panhellenic Council, and I photographed many recruitment events, meetings and community events.
